

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is a method of drying, without damage, a compound which is subject to deactivation on drying, or a mixture of such compounds, comprising subjecting an aqueous system containing the compound or mixture to drying in the presence of one or more monosaccharide sugar alcohols and at least one additive which is a glass-former or a glass-formation-facilitator, whereby the compound solidifies from solution as an amorphous glass rather than by forming crystals.

002495-4430